feature medieval architecture such as the city walls, St. John's Cathedral and the Barbican which links the Old Town with Warsaw New Town.

Krasiński Palace: is a reconstructed Baroque palace close to the Old Town, on Krasiński Square (Plac Krasińskich). It is surrounded by an urban park created in 1676 as a private garden of the Krasiński family.

Łazienki Royal Gardens: The park-and-palace complex lies in Warsaw's central district on Ujazdów Avenue, which is part of the Royal Route linking the Royal Castle with Wilanów Palace to the south. Łazienki is visited by tourists from all over Poland and the world, and serves as a venue for music, the arts, and culture. The park is also home to peacocks and a large number of squirrels. Free entrance to all the museums on each Friday.

Palace of Culture and Science: is a notable high-rise building in central Warsaw. Constructed in 1955, it houses various public and cultural institutions such as cinemas, theaters, libraries, sports clubs, university faculties. Motivated by Polish historical architecture and American art deco high-rise buildings, the PKiN was designed by Soviet architect Lev Rudnev in "Seven Sisters" style. You can have a drink at Bar Studio or Cafe Kulturalna or buy a ticket to see the panorama of Warsaw from the viewing platform from 30th floor.
